I built a membership
site in 30 minutes.
Here's the process.

Step 1:

I asked AI to build a buyer persona.

"Who is this for? What's their biggest frustration? What would make them say 'finally, someone gets it'?"

Two minutes. Not perfect — but enough.

Step 2:
I defined the smallest possible offer.
Not a course. Not a content library.
One lead magnet that proves someone wants this.

Step 3:
AI generated the lead magnet.
A checklist. Took about 5 minutes.
The goal isn't a beautiful PDF.
The goal is: does someone want this enough to give you their email?

Step 4:
I wired it up in PMPro.
One free level. One page.
Signup form at the top,
gated content below.
No separate thank-you page.

Step 5:
Instant delivery.
Sign up. Page refreshes.
Asset appears.
No hunting through their inbox.
No separate download page.
Seamless.

The whole thing:
~30 minutes.
The tech was 10 minutes.
The strategy was the other 20.
AI helped with both.
