Early members are telling you something.

They're not just first customers — they're proof of concept. The question isn't whether your idea works. It's whether you're paying close enough attention to know what to build next.

Signs your membership is actually working

- ✓ Members are renewing without prompting
- ✓ People are referring others to you
- ✓ Free members are asking about upgrading
- ✓ You're getting real feedback — even critical feedback

3 ways to move free members to paid

1. Show them what they're missing — gate your highest-value content
2. Make the upgrade frictionless — one click, one price, one clear reason
3. Ask directly — a personal email converts better than a banner
