

HOW-TO

Close signups for a coaching cohort on a set date

A few lines of code stop new checkouts once enrollment ends.

THE USE CASE

Built for cohorts.

If you run a coaching program or a class that starts on a fixed date, you can offer that membership level for a limited time and shut off new signups when the window closes.

HOW IT WORKS

Set a cutoff date.

The recipe uses the `pmpo_registration_checks` filter. Update one line with your level ID and one line with the date the level stops being offered, in YYYY/MM/DD format.

AFTER THE DATE

Checkout closes.

Once the cutoff passes, registration is blocked and the visitor sees a message that signups have ended. The level's settings are also updated to disallow future signups.

YOUR MEMBERS

Current members keep access.

Closing signups does not touch anyone already enrolled. Existing members of the level keep access for the rest of their membership term.

THE TAKEAWAY

Run cohort enrollment on your schedule

Add the recipe with a custom plugin or the free Code Snippets plugin, set your date, and let the cutoff handle the rest.
